Posters

Our posters come in five different languages: Te Reo Maaori, French, German, Japanese and Spanish. These posters contain several commands and supportive phrases that are used frequently in language classrooms, such as: 'stand up', 'sit down', and 'enjoy yourself'. As students, we were able to develop images students will find useful. Using a student model from each ethnic group on our posters make the posters more attractive and noticeable as other students will be able to connect with each character. These posters will also improve your students confidence, allowing ease of reference to the phrases displayed on your classroom wall.

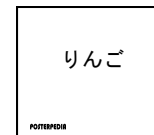

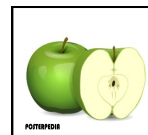

Posters can be purchased in the following phrases:

- * Put your hand up
- * Enter
- * Exit
- * Enjoy yourself
- * Try your best
- * Do your work
- * Be quiet
- * Listen
- * Stand up
- * Sit down

“Mix n match” games can be purchased in the following categories (10 pairs in each pack):

- * Classroom objects

Mix and Match Games

Posterpedia has also produced an interactive magnetic “mix and match” game which is playable on your classroom whiteboard. The aim of this interactive game is to improve the vocabulary and instant memory recall for your students through matching certain words to pictures. The game is offered in: Te Reo Maaori, French, German, Japanese and Spanish. We have produced the game incorporating several units within the NZ Curriculum such as Family, Sports and Classroom objects.
